

Emergency Recruitment - Internal

Aberdeen City Council will use this information to assess which essential services you could help us support and match you to any critical vacancies we have, based on your skills, experience and certifications. Once we've done this, we'll be in touch with you to confirm if you would be willing to help.

Because of the current situation we need to make sure this is done quickly, so we're asking you for some information that we may already hold about you, and we may verify what you tell us here against our records. This is not our normal practice and is a temporary measure that we have put in place given the current exceptional circumstances so we can fill our essential vacancies quickly in a way which is balanced with our duty of care to the people we deliver services to.

For more information about how we manage and use employee data please look at our full Privacy Notices pages on People Anytime.
